

Press Roller Service Just in Time.

Preventive maintenance for high economy.

Grain Processing
Customer Service

Beside the dies, the press rollers are the most important tools in the pelleting industry. They have a direct impact on the yield and on the quality of the end products.

Buhler offers you press rollers by just in time delivery. You will receive reconditioned and checked spare press rollers at attractive prices to replace your worn press rollers. This means you no longer require your own press rollers, since Buhler will make them available to you.

Simply remove the press rollers from the transportation box and return your worn press rollers to us. We will make sure that you always have press rollers readily available. This reduces your capital investment in spare press rollers, enabling you to utilize your capital profitably some other way.

Scope of service:

- Just in time press roller supply
- Supply of reconditioned and checked spare press rollers
- Return of the used press rollers

If requested, we will of course also be pleased to exchange the press rollers for you on your machine.

Your benefits

- High uptime thanks to fewer unscheduled plant stops
- Consistently high product quality thanks to preventive press roller changes
- Minimized downtimes
- Maximized yield thanks to optimal condition of the press rollers
- No capital spending on spare rollers
- No tied up resources for press roller reconditioning
- Free capital, you pay only for what you use
- Lower energy consumption
