

Build a successful and professional future at Bühler

The Bühler Apprenticeship Academy offers an apprenticeship for the next generation of Customer Service Engineers. The apprenticeship is a formalized 3-year dual training program that combines structured on-the-job training and technical instruction. Our apprenticeship connects learning directly to the world of work. Apprentices are paid as full time employees of Bühler for the entire length of the program and receive benefits. All training classes, tools, books, computers, and uniforms are paid for by Bühler.

Customer Service Engineers have the opportunity to work with Bühler machines and installations in different industries: chocolate, snacks, breakfast cereal, pasta, color sorting, coffee, animal nutrition, brewing, malting, ink refining, die casting, and flour milling.

Dunwoody College of Technology is Bühler's educational partner.

Customer Service Engineer responsibilities are:

- Install, inspect, troubleshoot, repair, and modify equipment at customer sites and at Bühler locations around the world
- Provide customer training and technical support as well as organize preventive services
- Assist in the improvement of processes and equipment

Bühler apprentices earn an Associate Degree from Dunwoody College of Technology and a Journeyworker Card from the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry.
